

Hamilton Sorter's multi-function Work Island is easily re-located to meet the workflow requirements within this large corporate Reprographics Center.

Work Islands

Hamilton Sorter Work Islands provide workspace for team projects. Typically, they are centrally located within a particular operational area such as art production, copy departments or mail distribution, and designed for stand-up access by more than one person.

Work Islands can incorporate the functional needs of specific activities such as built-in light boxes, flat file storage or cable access panels. In addition to a range of storage options, large worksurfaces and locking casters for mobility, Hamilton can provide any specialized features that you require for increasing productivity.
