COMMITTED TO PROTECTING PATIENT PRIVACY

HIPAA – The Health Insurance Portability & Accountability Act of 1996 – requires that medical providers ensure the confidentiality of protected health information (PHI). What's the best way to assure that your facility's storage needs meet federal standards? Choose Spacesaver.

- Limit record access: Spacesaver systems can include unit locks, lockable tambour doors, keypad entry systems and remote access control. Our systems can also be tied into building security systems to ensure record protection in the event of a fire or security breach.
- Centralize medical records: With twice the capacity of standard storage units, Spacesaver lets you consolidate medical records in supervised areas that are close to the point of use. Now you can control access and limit the likelihood that records will be used improperly.
- Track record usage/location: Spacesaver has teamed with Infolinx System Solutions to create comprehensive single-source records storage and information management systems. Our complementary products guarantee strict control of critical patient records.
- Help to improve facility efficiency: While you're upgrading your storage system, you can also standardize work practices and improve record storage methods – changes that will improve efficiency in the future.
